Corporate Social Responsibility: Considering MicroPlastics

FREE Supply Chain Coffee Klatch – A virtually social gathering for coffee and conversation. 7:30am Pacific, October 5th, our topic will be MicroPlastics in our environment and question "could rubber based transport be replaced with steel based transport (rail)?"

Sign up for this Zoom meeting to receive the URL to join in. Get to know others in the supply chain community, and even hook up with each other via the "chat" feature. "Chat" can be used to comment/share with everyone in the meeting, or one individual who you may have a question or comment for, or wish to connect with later.

We encourage everyone to feel free to join in the conversation and share your experiences, either in person or thru "chat".
